NEAT 2.0: The Future of Online Learning after COVID – 19

Delhi, 13th February, 2021.

In an attempt to modernize the future of Online learning in India, the Ministry of Education, through its Implementing Agency, All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) will launch National Educational Alliance for Technology (NEAT 2.0) on February 16, 2021, at AICTE Auditorium, New Delhi.

The event will be blessed with the presence of prominent personalities, including the Honorable Minister of Education, Shri Ramesh Pokhriyal Nishank, Professor Anil D Sahasrabudhe, Chairman of AICTE, Professor M P Poonia, Vice Chairman of AICTE, Professor Rajive Kumar, Member Secretary, AICTE and Shri Buddha Chandrasekhar, CCO, NEAT, AICTE.

Professor Anil Sahasrabudhe told National Education policy 2020 (NEP 2020) aims at a student-centered learning approach that NEAT champions. Prioritizing and scaling personalized learning models to meet the needs of every student in the country.

Professor M P Poonia indicated NEAT 2.0 helps to verify, aggregate, and deliver EdTech solutions directly to the students, thus giving them a huge choice to select a technological requirement that will suit their requirements, which will, in turn, improve the overall learning outcome.

Professor Rajive Kumar, Member Secretary, AICTE, said, " The usage of technology in the educational sector is inevitable, and it will reshape the way in which people learned in the past. The usage of the NEAT Platform will enhance their skill and employability opportunities.
